Biospatial Training for EMS Agencies

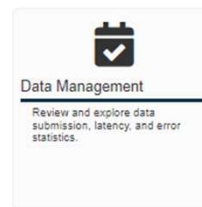

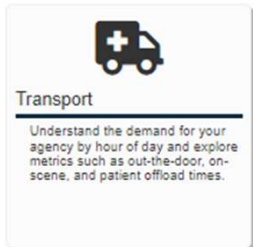

OEMST is hosting a biospatial training on Tuesday, May 21, 2024, at 10 am.

This training will be beneficial for an EMS Agency Director, Data Manager, and/or Agency Admin.

We will review some of the frequently used dashboards that will allow you to analyze and understand the demand for your agency data. You will also have a chance to learn how to explore metrics such as on-scene times, patient offload times, how to compare some operational and clinical performance measures regionally and statewide.

EMS services struggle to convince crews to document well but it doesn't have to be hard. Yes, we need compliant documentation and payment for trips. But crews don't need to write more; they need to capture the right information. Attend this lively session to learn the common missteps of documentation and tips to help crews easily stay on the "right" track. These improvements can lead to improved reimbursement for our organizations which can help support EMS and sustain our crews.
