Emergency Preparedness And Response

WOULD LIKE YOU TO ATTEND OUR

Community Response Summit

Cobb & Douglas Public Health, Emergency Preparedness and Response would like to invite you to our second summit. These are designed to help inform, educate, and empower people about public health responsibilities and how we can mobilize with community partners to identify and solve health problems. Each of our three summit sessions are focused on the CDC Public Health Capabilities that continue to lead us from Preparedness Through Recovery. Our goals are that all attendees will leave these conferences with tools, resources, and networks to assist with our community preparedness and help reinforce our partnerships.

Why should you attend ?

Each summit will provide the opportunities to convene community members and key partners. This includes all that are tasked with emergency activities including our faith-based communities and people with special needs to help build community collaborations, determine roles, identify and leverage community assets/resources and participate in events that benefits the community, as resources allow.
